

Contributors

Natalie Astrup obtained her BCom Honours in Information Systems and Technology in 2007 at University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa. She is currently a software developer at Plan-a-Head developing software for the agricultural sector. After completion of an NDip Architecture, she spent the first ten years of her career in the architectural field working on building projects in both the public and private sector. During this time she completed her BCom Informatics degree through Unisa. She subsequently worked as a web developer in the public sector. She then worked for a property valuation company as a software developer and valuation project manager. Contact details: Natalie@planahead.co.za

Udo Averweg is in the Department of Information Services at eThekweni Municipality and a part-time lecturer at the Leadership Centre at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. Contact details: averwegu@durban.gov.za

Kasturi Behari-Leak is an academic literacy lecturer at the Fundani Centre for Higher Education and Development at the Cape Peninsula University of Technology (CPUT). She is a qualified TEFL/ TESOL teacher who has taught international, refugee and national students in cultural contexts. She has also trained in the Dramatic Arts (Hons) and holds a Master's Degree in Language and Literature Education (UCT). Her area of interest is in the impact that language teaching and learning have on culture and diversity within the context of Higher Education in South Africa. Her last research project culminated in a chapter for an international book project entitled "Indigenous Societies and Cultural Globalisation in the 21st Century". Her current research projects at CPUT focus on the embedding of literacy practices in the mainstream teaching in the Applied Sciences and Medical Faculties, documenting the discipline expert's induction into an integrated academic literacy practices methodology. Contact details: beharileakk@cput.ac.za

Contributors

Shamim Bodhanya holds a BSc Electronic Engineering degree from the then University of Natal and an international MBA from Nyenrode University in the Netherlands. He is currently completing his PhD in the area of strategic management. As a trained and practising engineer, he worked in the corporate sector for nearly 14 years, where he served in a variety of functional, professional and managerial capacities before joining academia. He is now actively involved in research, programme and module development, lecturing, facilitation and consulting. He draws on interdisciplinary research to work with complex real world problems. This is reflected in the areas that he has researched, taught or consulted in. These include sugar cane supply chains, international business, globalisation, strategy development, scenario planning, cross cultural management and diversity, complexity theory, and system dynamics. He has studied, lectured and presented papers locally and internationally. He has engaged in facilitation in a variety of contexts both for small groups and large groups including strategy, business planning, conflict, union, training, skills development, youth workshops and simulations amongst others. He serves as a Director of the Institute for Natural Resources. Contact details: bodhanyas1@ukzn.ac.za

Nicolaas Johannes Booyse obtained his B Com (Hons) in Financial Management Sciences in 1994 at the University of South Africa. He is currently a lecturer at the University of South Africa where he teaches Accounting Systems in a Computer Environment. He spent the first 22 years of his career in the education sector in South Africa as a teacher in Accounting, Economics and Computer Sciences. During this period he act as Head of the department and was involved in setting and marking of several national examination papers. He started his career at the University of South Africa as a lecturer in 2009. Contact details: booyesn@unisa.ac.za

Teresa Carmichael was born in Zimbabwe and started work in the arena of agricultural research after completing her BSc (Hons) in microbiology and biochemistry. After migrating to South Africa, she moved into sales, marketing and then training within the pharmaceutical industry. Several years later, she started her own HR development consultancy, but then found her true love in academia and joined Wits Business School after completing her Master in Management (HR) cum laude. She followed this immediately with her PhD, awarded in 2007 after completing her dissertation entitled Service-Learning in MBA Degree Programmes in South Africa. Terri's primary research interest is in management education, although she also publishes in HR and diversity and culture. Terri is keen to collaborate with colleagues locally and internationally with a view to furthering research and promoting innovative teaching practices in South Africa and other African countries. Contact details: Terri.carmichael@wits.ac.za

Suleman Docrat obtained his Master of Commerce degree in Business Management at the University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa. He is a lecturer in the School of Management Sciences at the Durban University of Technology where he teaches, Marketing and Tourism. He has attended several local and international conferences, having presented papers on Shopping Centre Management. Contact details: Poovalingamk@ukzn.ac.za

Yvonne du Plessis has a BSc Hons, MBA and obtained her PhD specialising in Organisational Behaviour in 2004 at the University of Pretoria, South Africa. She currently is an Associate Professor at the University of Pretoria, Department of Human Resource Management, where she teaches Strategic Human Resource Management and Human Resource Project Management. She is the Departmental Manager for PhD programmes in Human Resource Management and Organisational Behaviour. She has more than 20 years of experience in the field of Human Resource Management and Organisational Behaviour. She has published widely, presented at many international and national academic conferences and was a guest professor in Strategic and International Human Resource Management at the University of Innsbruck in Austria in 2007 and 2009. Contact details: yvonne.duplessis@up.ac.za

Stan Hardman is a professor at the Leadership Centre at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. Contact details: hardmans@ukzn.ac.za

Rembrandt Klopper is an Honorary Research Fellow in the School of Information Systems & Technology at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. He supervises masters and doctoral students and is a special issues editor of the South African interdisciplinary scholarly journal, Alternation. Contact details: rklopper@gmail.com

Contributors

Paula Kotzé is Chief Researcher and Research Group Leader in Human Factors and Enterprise Engineering at Meraka Institute, CSIR, Professor Extraordinaire at University of South Africa, Adjunct Professor at Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University and Extraordinary Professor at North West University. Contact details: paula.kotze@meraka.org.za

Evert Louw is a professor in the Department of Industrial Psychology on the Mafikeng campus of North West University. Contact details: louwej@vodamail.co.za

Sam Lubbe is a professor in the School of Computing at on the Mafikeng campus of North West University. He has a PhD from Wits and he teaches SIS, SCM and other IS courses. He has published many articles, attended and delivered many conference papers as well as three books. He is also supervising many postgraduate students. Contact details: Sam.lubbe@nwu.ac.za

Manoj Maharaj is an associate professor in the School of Information Systems & Technology at the University of KwaZulu-Natal where he supervises masters and doctoral students. Contact details: maharajms@ukzn.ac.za

Joel T. Maubane is associated with the Department of Industrial Psychology on the Mafikeng campus of North West University. Contact details: maubanetj@nwu.ac.za

Brian McArthur obtained his MA in English in 1980 at University of Natal, South Africa and an MBA in 2000 at the University of South Africa. He currently is an Associate Professor at the University of KwaZulu-Natal where he teaches Research Methodology and serves as the Deputy Head of School (Information Systems and Technology). He spent the first 15 years of his career in the educational sector in South Africa as an educator, subject adviser and curriculum adviser. He subsequently held a position as Senior Lecturer at the University of Natal. Contact details: McArthurb@ukzn.ac.za

Aletta McGee obtained her BCom (Hons) in Accounting at the University of Pretoria. She is currently a lecturer at the University of South Africa where she teaches Accounting Systems in a Computer Environment. She spent the first 10 years of her career as a lecturer at the University of Pretoria, lecturing Financial Accounting. Contact details: mcgeea@unisa.ac.za

Msizi Mkhize joined the South African Institute of Chartered Accountants (SAICA) in May 2000. Msizi is currently a Project Manager in the Transformation and Growth Unit where he manages all transformation and growth projects in the KwaZulu-Natal province. Prior to joining the SAICA he was the Head of Department (Commerce) at Zwelibanzi High School and a Mathematics and Accounting educator at Menzi High School in Umlazi. He has recently published a series of FET Accounting Study Guides. He holds a Bachelor of Commerce (Honours) from the University of South Africa, Bachelor of Commerce from the University of Zululand and Secondary Teacher's Diploma from Indumiso College of Education. He is currently completing his Masters in Commerce at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. Contact details: msizim@saica.co.za

Lilian Monji obtained her Honours degree in Human Resources in 2008 at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. She currently is the head of the HR department in a large South African organisation.

Micheline Naude obtained her DCom in supply chain management in 2010 at the University of South Africa. She is currently a lecturer at the University of KwaZulu-Natal where she has been lecturing supply chain management for the past seven years at undergraduate and postgraduate level. She spent the first 20 years of her career in commerce and industry (the last seven years in the purchasing field). She has published several articles and has presented various conference papers locally and internationally. Contact details: naudem@ukzn.ac.za

Charles O'Neill obtained his PhD in Development Economics at Rhodes University, South Africa. He is an Associate Professor at the University of KwaZulu-Natal in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa where he teaches Entrepreneurship and Strategic Management. He spent the first 15 years of his career in industry where he worked for a trade union, managed an animal feeds factory and worked as a small business consultant. He then held positions as Research Fellow at the University of Ulster, Northern Ireland and Senior Lecturer the University of Stellenbosch. He published widely and was guest lecturer on Entrepreneurship in Belgium and the DRC. Contact details: Charles.Oneill@bue.edu.eg

Contributors

Karen Ortlepp is registered as an industrial/organisational psychologist with the HPCSA. She studied Psychology and Economics at the University of Natal and obtained her PhD from the University of the Witwatersrand. Karen has held academic positions in the University of the Witwatersrand's Psychology department and the Wits Business School. She is currently senior lecturer in the School of Management at the University of KwaZulu-Natal where she teaches and conducts research in the fields of Human Resource Management, Leadership and Change Management. In addition to her academic work, Karen is involved in leadership coaching and organisational change management consulting and has worked in this capacity in a number of corporates, NGOs and educational institutions. Karen has a number of publications in SAPSE-accredited journals focussing on current people-management challenges in various organisational settings. Contact details: OrtleppK@ukzn.ac.za

Indira Padyachee is a lecturer in the School of Information Systems & Technology at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. Contact details: padayacheei@ukzn.ac.za

Shaun Pather is an Associate Professor in the Research Unit of Faculty of Informatics & Design at CPUT, and a Fulbright Scholar (University of Washington 2009/10). He holds a doctorate in Information Technology. His current research examines information society and community engagement issues in developing countries, with a focus on the development of a framework for evaluating outcomes of public access ICTD interventions in South Africa. He is also an expert in e-commerce, e-government, e-service quality, evaluating the effectiveness of web-enabled information systems, and in qualitative research methodologies. Shaun serves on several international conference committees, and journal editorial boards. Contact details: shaun.pather@gmail.com

Ronnie Perumal obtained his Doctorate in Commerce in 1994 at the ex-University of Durban-Westville, through research which focused on the role of Affirmative Action in achieving business excellence. He is currently based in the School of Management at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. He has 18 years of experience in the financial administration of the University and spent the past 14 years in academia lecturing in financial management, human resources, corporate governance, entrepreneurship and marketing management. He has previously occupied the roles of Head of School, Deputy Head of School and Dean's Assistant. He also serves on the Council for the Built Environment and the National Regulator for Compliance Specifications. His current research interests include managing diversity in the evolving socio-political climate of South Africa, workload equity amongst academics, and management education. Contact details: perumals@ukzn.ac.za

Rubeshan Perumal is a medical research fellow at the Centre for the AIDS Programme of Research in South Africa and is also a medical doctor in the public health service. He is passionate about TB-HIV research and his ongoing work on promoting annual HIV surveillance at TB facilities, as well the operational challenges in integrating TB and HIV services to optimize health outcomes. Other areas of interest include research methodology, human resources management, public management, health economics, infectious disease epidemiology and behavioural medicine. Contact details: rubeshanperumal@gmail.com

Kasthuri Poovalingam obtained her D.Com in Marketing at the University of Durban-Westville in South Africa in 1992. She is an Associate Professor at the University of KwaZulu-Natal in Westville, South Africa where she teaches Marketing. She has spent her career as an academic at the university, having published several articles and having supervised several doctoral candidates. She has served as guest lecturer in Mauritius, India and Malaysia. Contact details: Poovalingamk@ukzn.ac.za

Sanjay Ranjeeth has a Bachelor of Science degree majoring in Mathematics and Computer Science. He has also obtained a Honours degree in Computer Science from the University of Natal as well as a Master's degree in

Contributors

Technology, obtained summa cum laude, from the Durban University of Technology. He also holds a University Higher Degree in Education qualification. He spent the first 13 years of his career as a senior secondary teacher of Mathematics and Computer Studies. During his time, he served as Chief Examiner for Computer Studies for the Senior Certificate examination. He currently lectures in the School of Information Systems and Technology at the Pietermaritzburg campus of the University of KwaZulu-Natal. Contact details: ranjeeths@ukzn.ac.za

Dan Remenyi is a Visiting Professor specialising in research methodology at the School of Systems and Data Studies at Trinity College Dublin and a Visiting Academic Fellow at Henley Business School in the United Kingdom. He works in both research methodology and the sociology of research in which he teaches and researches. He works extensively with research degree candidates and supervisors at both doctoral and masters level. He conducts a number of seminars on topics related to improving effective academic research and obtaining better results. Contact details: dan.remenyi@tcd.ie

Anesh Singh is professor and the Head of the Graduate School of Business at the University of KwaZulu-Natal. Contact details: singham@ukzn.ac.za

Neil Skea received his BCom Honours degree cum laude in 2008 from the University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa. He is currently researching the impact of the IPv6 migration on South Africa for the qualification of Master of Commerce. Neil is an entrepreneur and is currently managing his own business specializing in systems and network consulting. Contact details: neilskea@gmail.com

Wilfred Isioma Ukpere obtained his Bachelor of Commerce (BCom) and Master of Commerce (MCom) from Punjabi University Patiala India. He further obtained a MCom (Business Administration) from Jiwaji University Gwalior, India, and subsequently obtained his PhD from Cape Peninsula University of Technology, Cape Town. He is currently employed as an academic at the University of Johannesburg. He has published widely and was a visiting academic to Punjabi University, India in 2009. He is an Editorial Advisory Board Member of the International Journal of Social Economics (Emerald Insight) and, a reviewer for many Journals. Contact details: wilfredukpere@gmail.com

Alta van der Merwe is currently a principal researcher at the Meraka Institute of the CSIR, where her duties include research, human capital development (supervision of MSc and PhD students), being involved as an academic member in collaboration with universities, and playing a role in professional and subject societies such as IEEE. Alta van der Merwe's current research interests include the use and adoption of Enterprise Architecture. Contact details: alta@meraka.org.za

Huibrecht Margaretha van der Poll obtained her DCom in Financial Management Sciences at the University of Pretoria, South Africa. She is a Senior Lecturer at the University of South Africa, South Africa where she teaches Accounting Systems in a Computer Environment. She spent the first 9 years of her career in industry where she worked as an accountant for a manufacturing company, a transport advisory company and a consulting engineering company. She then held positions as Junior Lecturer and later Senior Lecturer at the University of South Africa. She published articles in accredited journals and delivered papers at National as well as International (France and Slovenia) conferences. She is also the author of school text books on accounting (grade 10 and 11) for Oxford University Press. Contact details: vdpolhm@unisa.ac.za

Mari Jansen van Rensburg is an Associate Professor in Strategic Management at the UNISA Department of Business Management and has taught at various local and international education institutions. She has extensive practical experience and was previously employed in the Business-to-Business sector at an internationally listed company as the group marketing analyst. Her academic qualifications includes an M.Com in Marketing Management conferred by the University of Pretoria and a D.Com (Business Management) conferred by the University of South Africa. Professionally, she is registered as a chartered marketer in South Africa. Her research and consultancy interest and experience includes strategic management, evoked set formulation, customer satisfaction, customer relationship management, customer retention and defection strategies, internal marketing and supplier management. Contact details: Jvrenm@unisa.ac.za

Contributors

Sandra Williams is a law lecturer in the Business Faculty at the Cape Peninsula University of Technology (CPUT). She holds a B.A. (LLB) and is a lawyer by profession. She entered the higher education arena seeking a change in career. Her expertise is in Labour Law but she has taught other aspects of Law to undergraduate students who study Law as an ancillary subject. Various teaching and learning problems have presented themselves as research challenges to which she has responded in an effort to deepen the learning experience of her students. These research findings have been presented at numerous national conferences. Her interest in academic literacy was sparked by her students' growing inability over the years to 'crack the code' of her discipline. The jargon laden nature of Law and the diversity of the Law class have impacted on students' ability to navigate the discourse. Her current research is an investigation into 'new ways of doing' in Law in an attempt to equip students with skills to engage more effectively with their learning. Contact details: williamsSE@cput.ac.za