

Information and Knowledge Management for Social, Economic and Political Development

Editors
Priti Jain,
Nathan Mnjama &
Olugbade Oladokun

Alternation African Scholarship Book Series #13

Alternation African Scholarship Book Series (AASBS)

General Editors

Nhlanhla Mkhize; Relebohile Moletsane; Nobuhle Ndimande-Hlongwa;
Sarah Mosoetsa; Stephen Mutula; Labby Ramrathan; Johannes A. Smit

Lead-Editors

Nyna Amin University of KwaZulu-Natal; Vivienne Bozalek Cape Peninsula University of Technology; Denzil Chetty University of South Africa; Rubby Dhunpath University of KwaZulu-Natal; Bekithemba Dube University of the Free State; Mari Haugaa Engh, Norwegian University of Science and Technology; Maserole Kgari-Masondo University of KwaZulu-Natal; Rembrandt Kloppe University of Zululand; Simangaliso Kumalo University of KwaZulu-Natal; Sam Lubbe Mangosuthu University of Technology; Sadhana Manik University of KwaZulu-Natal; Cheryl Mohamed Sayeed University of KwaZulu-Natal; Herbert Moyo University of KwaZulu-Natal; Priya Narismulu University of KwaZulu-Natal; Maheshvari Naidu University of KwaZulu-Natal; Beatrice Okyere-Manu University of KwaZulu-Natal; Kunle Oparinde Durban University of Technology; Michael Samuel University of KwaZulu-Natal; Federico Settler University of KwaZulu-Natal; Upasana Gitanjali Singh University of KwaZulu-Natal; Lilian Siwila University of KwaZulu-Natal.

Alternation research groups have made decisive and far-sighted knowledge production contributions in the interdisciplinary Arts and Humanities arena for more than twenty-five years. From 2020, it adds the Alternation African Scholarship Book Series (AASBS) to its research outputs system. Via its incisive thematically-focused inter-, multi-, and trans-disciplinary, as well as digitally-informed, research approaches, the AASBS not only advances the frontiers of knowledge in Africa's institutions of Higher Learning in designated focus areas, but also critically generates scholarship of, by and with the people(s) of our continent. Historically the research draws on the rich traditions of interactive African intellectualisations, from its earliest civilisations, through struggles for liberation and freedom, to independence and growth. It opens up future epistemic opportunities through intellectual initiative and resourcefulness, while critically contributing to the international advancement of knowledge on all relevant levels. Contributing to research-led constructive, transformative and substantial discourse development in our programmes and disciplines, it also aims at impacting the wellbeing of our people foundationally and all-inclusively in the present. All forms of scientific and social challenge which Africa's societies and communities face, need to be problematised and researched in the Arts and Humanities, in the interest of cooperative and conscientious responsible knowledge generation and foundational conceptual and methodological research impacts. We serve the hopes and aspirations of the people of Africa.

AASBS is committed to the highest levels of inclusive, factually correct and critical, socially-responsive and socially-accountable evidence-based research analyses and outputs. Each chapter is reviewed by at least two independent peer reviewers. Through its editing and peer-review system, each volume also builds research leadership, research expertise, and interactive research acumen, capacity and capabilities.

A list of published and upcoming titles follows overleaf

Alternation African Scholarship Book Series (AASBS)

- Ramrathan, L., N. Ndimande-Hlongwa, N. Mkhize & J.A. Smit (eds.). 2020. Re-thinking the Humanities Curriculum in the Time of COVID-19. Volume #01.
- Ndimande-Hlongwa, N., L. Ramrathan, N. Mkhize & J.A. Smit (eds.). 2020. Technology-based Teaching and Learning in Higher Education during the Time of COVID-19. Volume #02.
- Mkhize, N., N. Ndimande-Hlongwa, L. Ramrathan & J.A. Smit (eds.). 2020. Teaching and Learning in Higher Education in the Time of COVID-19. Volume #03.
- Smit, J.A., N. Mkhize, N. Ndimande-Hlongwa & L. Ramrathan (eds.). 2020. Learner and Subject at the Dawn of Digital Research-Led Teaching and Learning in the Time of COVID-19. Volume #04.
- Manik, S. (ed.). 2020. From High-risk Sports to Sports as High Risk: Crisis, Capitulation and Creativity during COVID-19. Volume #05.
- Kumalo, S.R., C. Lynch, A.B. Bangirana & C. Kemedjio (eds.). 2021. Critical Perspectives on Governance, Religion and Humanitarian Aid in Africa. Volume #06.
- Singh, U.G., P.S. Reddy, M.W. Phiri & P. Appavoo (eds.). 2021. Global Trends in Management, IT and Governance in an E-World. (E-MIG 2019 International.) Volume #07.
- Amin, N. & R. Dhunpath (eds.). 2021. (Re)Learning to Teach in Contexts of Crises. Volume #08.
- Bob, U. (ed.). 2022. The COVID-19 Pandemic: Impacts of the Corona Virus on Sport and Society. Volume #09.
- Moran, S. 2022. Primitive Times. Volume #10.
- Singh, S.B. (ed.). 2022. Indians in South Africa: Perspectives from 1860 to the 21st Century. Volume #11.
- Ramrathan, L., R. Hoskins & V.S. Singaram (eds.). 2022. Assessment through Digital Platforms within Higher Education Studies. Volume #12.
- Jain, P., N. Mnjama & O. Oladokun (eds.). 2023. Information and Knowledge Management for Social, Economic and Political Development. Volume #13.
- Samuel, M.A. & H. Mariaye 2023. Transforming Postgraduate Education in Africa. Volume #14.
- Mutula, S.M. (ed.). 2023. The Diasporean I: The Southern Africa Perspectives. Volume #15.
- Mutula, S.M. (ed.). 2023. The Diasporean II: Perspectives from Beyond Southern Africa. Volume #16.
- Mkhize, N. & S. Ehiane 2023. Aspects of African Scholarship in the Humanities and Social Sciences. Volume #17.

Information and Knowledge Management for Social, Economic and Political Development

Editors
Priti Jain,
Nathan Mnjama &
Olugbade Oladokun

2023

CSSALL
Durban

Published in 2023 in South Africa

CSSALL Publishers (Pty) Ltd
c/o POSTNET SUITE 158
Private Bag X9118
Pietermaritzburg
KwaZulu-Natal
3200

Email: cssall123@gmail.com
Editor-in-Chief: Prof J.A. Smit
University of KwaZulu-Natal
Email: smitj@ukzn.ac.za

Alternation African Scholarship Book Series Volume #13
© CSSALL Publishers (Pty) Ltd

Title: Information and Knowledge Management for Social, Economic and Political Development. Volume #13.

Editors: Priti Jain, Nathan Mnjama & Olugbade Oladokun

ISBN: 978-0-9869937-4-9

Book DOI number: <https://doi.org/10.29086/978-0-9869937-4-9/2023/AASBS13>

Book url: <https://doi.org/10.29086/978-0-9869937-4-9/2023/AASBS13>

Cover: From Open web.

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior permission of the copyright holder and publisher.

CSSALL has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party internet websites referred to in this volume, and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate.

Printed and bound by Print Connection, Tel (031) 202-7766

Preface

Archives and libraries have become contested spaces in so far as the African archives have mostly been developed for colonial and colonising purposes. During the apartheid era, in South and Southern Africa, the archives were developed for use by the apartheid political and security apparatuses to colonise even better. And, for internationalisation, so-called ‘universal’ international, knowledge was imported into our libraries, to perpetuate the imposition of colonising knowledge and to legally exclude and marginalise indigenous thought, the language/s that intellectualised and gave expression to such thought, and repress any form of agency, innovation and initiative, to the contrary. Complex systems of censure coupled with security state apparatuses were used to suppress and exclude all forms of innovative knowledge that come from the people for the people, and which is supposed to be used by the people.

The African archive and library are all the poorer for it, since the thought, writing, and knowledge/s of our people have not had the opportunity to develop alongside and together with the rest of the modern world, interactively, and on an equal basis. Especially since the impact of the global transforming events of the late 1980s and early 1990s, this scenario has changed. Since then, and in the wake of the achieving of political independence of many countries in the global South, since the late 1950s, the field has opened for information and knowledge development agency. So, currently, there are innumerable initiatives from all over Africa and the global South to not only conceptualise and make formative contributions to current knowledge development processes, both locally and internationally. The freedom and opportunity have been created to also innovate and enrich modern knowledge systems that may be utilised for the generic and particular upscaling of the conceptually-relevant as well as contextually-relevant development and uses of knowledge. And, as colonisation targeted minds – to develop educational systems that would ensure black subjugated intellectual secondary-ness – so, freedom opened the space for the constructive generation of information for intellectualisation, epistemic enriching, and the innovative development of knowledge, for innovation and the forms and ideas for the improvement of the quality of modern life of people, equally.

It is as part of the current innovative and advanced African responses to the challenges of knowledge generation, that this volume, Information and Knowledge Management for Social, Economic, and Political Development, edit-

By Priti Jain, Nathan Mnjama, and Olugbade Oladokun, acquires prominence and significance. Prominence derives from the fact that seminal aspects of the topics of information and knowledge development are addressed from helpful perspectives and analyses from within the global South. It adds to global knowledge not only with regard to knowledge management challenges concerning the speed and continuous acceleration of information and knowledge development globally. It also adds to the epistemic and epistemological thinking about knowledge in so far as information and knowledge management itself, is a crucial disciplinary complex that needs to be mastered for efficient knowledge development and uses in local – both urban and rural – contexts.

The significance of the volume is that it systematically brings together inter-related thematisations and conceptualisations, seminal for information and knowledge in respect of the integrative internationalised development challenges central to the social – economical – political triangle, in context. Positioned within the 21st century world of the emergence of 4IR- and AI-related interventions and virtual learning, knowledge and resource sharing, and archival mapping and development, the main hope is that the volume constructively contributes to ‘development’, and the ‘boosting’ of economies. It also engages the ways in which we may upscale such effective information and knowledge and management not only within accountable frameworks of governance, transparency, and human rights, but also the gaining of competitive advantages, internationally, through enabling policies and their efficient implementation, as well as public services training, and the use of open and distance learning.

Information and Knowledge Management for Social, Economic, and Political Development, is timely, since it is a capacitating volume. It involves researchers, educators and practitioners, who may all benefit from it, equally.

Moreover, it has been brought together in a space, where, all pros and cons considered, African information and knowledge management scholars are best positioned for the constructive engagement of the intellectualization of data from within our own contexts. As such, it both provides helpful ways to engage access to information and relevant knowledge, as well as the rudiments of aspects of innovative action plans for archivists and librarians on our continent. It adds enriching significant insights, useful for solution-driven approaches to information and knowledge management.

Prof. Johannes A. Smit
Chair: Humanities Institute

Contents

Johannes A. Smit Preface	v
Contents	vii
Contributors	ix
 Priti Jain, Nathan Mnjama & Olugbade Oladokun
Chapter 1: Editorial Information and Knowledge Management for Social, Economic, and Political Development	1
 Olugbade Oladokun
Chapter 2: Boosting Socio-Economic and Political Development in Sub-Saharan Africa through Information and Knowledge Management	7
 Priti Jain
Chapter 3: Towards Digitally Enabled Libraries: The Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) in Libraries for Development in Botswana	40
 Ebenezer Ankrah & Florence Entsua-Mensah
Chapter 4: Sharpening the Digital Platform for Sustainable Virtual Learning in Higher Education in Ghana	69
 Olayinka Catherine Fatoki & Wole Michael Olatokun
Chapter 5: Attitudinal and Motivational Factors as Correlates of Digital Resource Knowledge Sharing Behaviour among Agricultural Researchers in South-West Nigeria	104
 Winifred Bentil
Chapter 6: The Influence of Contextual Factors on Electronic Resource Management in Academic Libraries in Ghana	126
 Alice A. Bamigbola
Chapter 7: Knowledge Sharing Patterns of Postgraduate Students: A Case Study of School Library Media Technology Students, University of Ibadan, Nigeria	151

Akakandelwa Akakandelwa
Chapter 8: Mapping Knowledge Management Practices in Africa:
A Bibliometric Analysis 170

Nathan Mnjama
Chapter 9: The Role of Records Management in Good Governance,
Transparency, Accountability and Human Rights in Africa 195

Tshepho Mosweu & Olefhile Mosweu
Chapter 10: Records Management and Knowledge Management:
Pathways to Gaining Competitive Advantage towards the Achievements of Sustainable Development Goals 226

Liah Shonhe & Gosego Ramotshabi
Chapter 11: Botswana Examinations Council (BEC) Readiness to Implement an Electronic Document and Records Management
System (EDRMS) – Action Officers’ Perspectives..... 247

Mupanga Simukai & Dewah Peterson
Chapter 12: Knowledge Acquisition for Development in Selected
Public Service Training Centres in Zimbabwe 277

Gbolagade Adekanmbi, Chabuya Kadisa, Thaddeus Mahoso & Bolupe Awe
Chapter 13: Exploring the Use of Open and Distance Learning for Socio-Economic Development in Sub-Saharan Africa 297

Acknowledgments 322

✧ Contributors ✧

Gbolagade Adekanmbi holds a PhD in Adult Education obtained in 1992 from the University of Ibadan. He is currently the Dean of the School of Education at the Botswana Open University. Before his current position, he worked as the Deputy Director, Academic Programming at the Centre for Continuing Education, University of Botswana, Gaborone. He also served as the Centre's Acting Director for some years. He has published widely in international journals in adult education, lifelong learning and distance education, and held several editorial positions for some institutional journals, including that of the International Review of Research in Open and Distributed Learning (IRRODL). gadekanmbi@staff.bou.ac.bw; <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-3858-5994>

Akakandelwa Akakandelwa is a Senior Lecturer in the School of Education at the University of Zambia. He is also the Coordinator for the Master of Library and Information Science Programme. He holds a PhD (University of Antwerp, Belgium); MLIS (University of Botswana, Botswana); BALIS (University of Zambia, Zambia). His research interests include: informetrics/bibliometrics, information seeking behaviour, information literacy, knowledge management processing and retrieval (cataloguing, classification, indexing and abstracting), e-government, social media studies, and information ethics. He previously worked at the University of Zambia Library where he held positions of Senior Librarian, Head of Veterinary Medicine Library, and Head of Cataloguing Department. He has also worked as a secondary school teacher in the Ministry of Education, and Senior Lecturer at Evelyn Hone College of Applied Arts and Commerce. He is Editor-in-Chief of the Zambia Journal of Library and Information Science, and had served for a long time as Editor-in-Chief of the Library and Information Association of Zambia Journal. akakandelwa@unza.zm; <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-5454-5207>

Ebenezer Ankrah is currently a Senior Lecturer and Head of the Department of Information Studies, University of Ghana, Legon. He possesses a doctorate degree in Information Studies and MBA (MIS) from the University of Ghana. He holds a BSc and LLB as well. He has had varied work experiences as Head of the Information Technology Unit, Medx Health Systems, Information

Specialist, World Bank Ghana Office and Systems Administrator, NTHC Limited. His research interests focus on information systems, including management information systems, library information systems and strategic information systems. In collaboration with other colleagues he has published articles appearing in both local and international journals. He is also a reviewer of articles for many international journals. eankrah@ug.edu.gh; <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-8461-519X>

Bolupe Awe obtained his B.Sc (Hons) (Botany/Education) degree from the University of Lagos; M.Ed. (Educational Management) from the University of Ibadan; PGD (Mass Communication) from the University of Lagos and PhD (Educational Management) from the University of Ado Ekiti. He had an academic publishing career at the University of Ibadan Publishing House; Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies, Lagos; University of Lagos Press. He was formerly the Head of Educational Administration and Planning Unit, Faculty of Education, National Open University of Nigeria (NOUN) and the Managing Editor of NOUN Journal of Education. He is currently an Associate Professor at the Federal University Oye Ekiti, Nigeria and former Deputy Dean, Faculty of Education. He is the Managing Editor, FUOYE Journal of Education and the Chairman Editorial Board/ Editor-in-Chief FUOYE Bulletin, the official in-house magazine of the Federal University of Oye Ekiti. He has reviewed several journal articles and published extensively in local and international journals. abayomi.awe@fuoye.edu.ng; <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-6379-7457>

Alice A. Bamigbola, CLN is a Lecturer at the Department of School Library and Media Technology, University of Ibadan, Nigeria. She has a Bachelor degree in Library and Information Studies, a Master's in Personnel Psychology (Ibadan), a Master's in Digital Library Learning (DILL) (Oslo) and a PhD in Library and Information Studies from the Department of Library, Archival and Information Studies, University of Ibadan, Nigeria. Her research focus includes: Digital Libraries, Open Access Repositories, Information and Knowledge Management, Media and Information Literacies and Emerging Technologies in School librarianship. Alice is an Erasmus Mundus Scholar. fifemidapo@yahoo.com; aa.bamigbola@ui.edu.ng; <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0722-1100>

Winifred Bentil has a PhD in Information Systems from the School of Information Management, Victoria University of Wellington. She is a Lecturer in the Department of Information Studies, University of Ghana. Her research interests include electronic resource management and usage, digital literacy, social aspects of information, and preservation of information resources. Miss.bentil@yahoo.co.uk; <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4908-0382>

Peterson Dewah (PhD) is an Associate Professor in the Department of Records and Archives Management at the National University of Science and Technology (NUST), Zimbabwe, and an Honorary Lecturer at the University of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa, Information Studies Programme. His research interests are in knowledge management, records and archives management, ethics in information management and indigenous knowledge systems areas in which he has taught and published peer-reviewed articles and book chapters. Prof Dewah has supervised BSc Honors and Master's Students, and examined PhDs and Master's theses and dissertations in his years of university teaching and in his research career. Dewah@ukzn.ac.za; peterston.dewah@nust.ac.zw

Florence Odarkor Entsua-Mensah is a Lecturer at the Department of Information Studies, University of Ghana, Legon. She holds a PhD in Information Science from the University of South Africa, Pretoria. Prior to that, she attained two master's degrees from the University of Ghana: A Master of Arts degree in Library Studies and an MPhil in Library Studies. She pursued a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Information Studies and Sociology at the University of Ghana. Her areas of teaching and research include Information and Knowledge Management, Critical Information Literacy, Electronic Learning, and Collection Management. She has published some of her works in both local and international journals. She is also a committee member for the festschrift Committee at the Ghana Library Association and she provides extension duties as a Coordinator of the Information Studies programme at the University of Ghana Distance Education programme. She is also a reviewer for Ghana Library Journal. fentsua-mensah@ug.edu.gh; <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-6633-6274>

Olayinka Catherine Fatoki is the Principal Librarian at the Kenneth Dike Library, University of Ibadan, Nigeria. She holds a BSc Hons (Physics) and Master, MPhil and PhD (Information Science) from the same university. She is an Associate of the Mortenson Centre for International Library Programmes, University of Illinois, Urbana Champaign, USA. Her research interests include: information management, information system management, knowledge management and e-learning. katefatoki@hotmail.com;

<https://orcid.org/0000-0003-2291-6258>

Priti Jain is a Professor of Information and Knowledge Management in the Department of Library and Information Studies at the University of Botswana. She holds BA (Hons) and LLB degrees from Meerut University, India, a Master's in Library and Information Studies from the University of Botswana, and a DLit et Phil (Doctor of Literature and Philosophy) from UNISA, South Africa. In her 16 years working experience in the library and information world, Priti has written extensively in refereed journals and has presented several papers at international conferences. She serves on five editorial boards of international journals. She is engaged in various community initiatives. She teaches and researches in knowledge management and information Science courses. Her current areas of research interest are: Knowledge Management, Open Access, Institutional Repositories, and Digital Scholarship.
Pritijainmail@gmail.com; <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7805-1196>

Chabuya Kadisa is a Lecturer and Head of Department of Early Childhood at the Botswana Open University. She holds a Master's in Education and she is currently pursuing her PhD studies at the University of Botswana. Ms Kadisa is goal-oriented and enjoys working on diverse educational initiatives, and as part of a team. Her research interest is in Early Childhood issues.
ckadisa@staff.bou.ac.bw; <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-4239-4162>

Thaddeus Mahoso holds a PhD in Early Childhood Education, and has a Master's degree in Early Childhood Education, a Bachelor of Education (Early Childhood Education), and a Diploma in Education with specialisation in Infant Education. He worked as an ECD teacher in Zimbabwe from 2000 to 2011. He then joined Joshua Mqabuko Nkomo Polytechnic in Zimbabwe from 2011 to 2019 as a full-time ECD lecturer. He also worked as a part-time lecturer at Midlands University, Women's University in Africa and Zimbabwe Open University in Zimbabwe. In 2019 he joined Baisago University as an ECD lecturer but later joined the Botswana Open University in 2020, where he is currently a lecturer in the Department of Early Childhood. He is interested in child protection issues and the psychology of teaching which are also his areas of research interest. tmahoso@staff.bou.ac.bw;
<https://orcid.org/0000-0002-1104-9569>

Nathan Mnjama is a Professor in the Department of Library and Information

Studies, University of Botswana with specialization in Archives and Records Management. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in History from the University of Nairobi, a Postgraduate Diploma in Archives and Records Management from the University of Ghana, a Post Graduate Diploma in Historical Science from Girton College, Cambridge, and a PhD in Archival Studies from the University College, London. Prof Mnjama has worked as an archivist and records manager at the Kenya National Archives and was responsible for the location and copying of Kenyan migrated archives from the UK between 1980 and 1985. He has considerable experience in teaching and delivery of archives and records management programmes having lectured at the School of Information Sciences, Moi University, Kenya, and since 1996 at the Department of Library and Information Studies, University of Botswana where he has been instrumental in the design of archives and records management programmes. Prof Mnjama is a well-known speaker and presenter in archives and records management forums in East and Southern Africa, and he has written extensively in the field of archives and records management in Africa. Mnjama has participated in several records management initiatives organized by the International Records Management Trust aimed at improving archives and records keeping practices in Africa. Between April 2014 and June 2022, Prof Mnjama served as the Expert Panel Member for the Endangered Archives Programme representing the African region. Currently, he is a member of the International Council on Archives Expert Group on Shared Archival Heritage which seeks to find solutions to issues relating to records that for various reasons have left their countries of origins and are now held elsewhere. mnjamanm@ub.ac.bw; mnjaman2000@yahoo.com; <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-1557-7200>

Olefhile Mosweu is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow in the Department of Information and Knowledge Management, School of Consumer Intelligence, and Information Systems, University of Johannesburg, South Africa, in the College of Business and Economics. He regularly reviews academic works and is an editorial board member of the Journal of the South African Society of Archivists, and the ESARBICA Journal editorial team. He is a National Research Foundation of South Africa C2 rated researcher. He is also an external examiner for the Department of Information Science, University of South Africa, Pretoria. His research interests are archival education, digital records management, research methodology, and the impact of Industry 4.0 on records management. He was a Research Assistant and member of Team Africa in the International Research on Permanent Authentic Records in

Electronic Systems project (InterPARES Trust) (2013 – 2018). He is a participant in the international research project, InterPARES Trust AI (2021-2026), a multi-national interdisciplinary project aiming to design, develop, and leverage Artificial Intelligence to support the ongoing availability and accessibility of trustworthy public records. olfmos@gmail.com; <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4404-9458>

Tshepho Mosweu is senior Lecturer in the Department of Library and Information Studies, University of Botswana where she teaches courses related to archives and records management. She is a Senior lecturer at the Department of Library and Information Studies at the University of Botswana, a Y2-rated researcher, and a Research Fellow at the Department of Information Science, UNISA. Prior to joining the University of Botswana, she practised as an archivist at the Botswana National Archives and Records Services at different levels. She holds a PhD in Information Science from UNISA. Her professional activities include working with the InterPARES Trust 4 Africa Team, most recently InterPARES Trust AI and the ICA Digital Curation programme. She also serves as a member of the ESARBICA Journal editorial team. She has published academic papers in peer-reviewed journals and book chapters on electronic records, liquid communication, Cloud- Computing , research methods and oral history. Dr Mosweu is the co-editor of the book Cases on Electronic Record Management in the ESARBICA Region published in 2020 by IGI Global. lydhoss@gmail.com; <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-2144-7544>

Simukai Mupanga is an Associate Professor in Knowledge Management in the Public Service. He is a holder of an MSc. Records and Archives Management and BSc Records and Archives Management degrees, obtained from the National University of Science and Technology (NUST), Zimbabwe. His research interests are in Knowledge Management and records management. no199188m@students.nust.ac.zw;

Olugbade Oladokun is an Associate Professor in the Department of Library and Information Studies, University of Botswana. He obtained a PhD in Library and Information Studies from the University of Botswana, a Master of Information Science (MIS) at the University of Pretoria and a Master in Library Studies (MLS) at the University of Ibadan. He has previously worked as a Senior Librarian and Principal Librarian at Ladoke Akintola University of Technology, Ogbomoso, Nigeria. He was also a Senior Librarian and pioneer Manager, Learning Commons, University of Botswana, before joining the Department of Library and Information Studies, University of Botswana. He serves as a Board member in a number of international journal outlets.

OLADOKUN@ub.ac.bw; gbadeoladokun@yahoo.com;

<https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7609-2760>

Wole Michael Olatokun is Professor of Information Science at University of Ibadan. He is Honorary Professor at the University of Kwazulu-Natal and University of Johannesburg, South Africa. He has taught and conducted research in the areas related to information science, systems and technology in Nigeria and Botswana for over two decades. His research interests include: Analysis of National ICT Policy Issues, Social Informatics, Information Ethics, Gender and ICT, Knowledge Management, e-Government, and Indigenous Knowledge. woleabbeyolatokun@yahoo.co.uk;

<https://orcid.org/0000-0003-2780-2161>

Gosego Ramotshabi is a Master's candidate in the Department of Library and Information Studies, University of Botswana since 2019. She holds a Bachelor of Science Honours in Records and Archives Management and a Diploma in Archives and Records Management. Gosego has been working as a Records Management Supervisor at the Botswana Examinations Council since 2009. She is passionate about management of records and information management as well as management of electronic records. She is a proud Records Manager. Gosego.ramotshabi@gmail.com

Liah Shonhe is a records and information manager. Currently, she is a PhD candidate at Dalian University of Technology in China. She holds a Master's Degree in Archives and Records Management and a Bachelor's Degree in Library and Information Studies from the University of Botswana. Her research interests are; change management, technology readiness and adoption, professional identity, user behavior, knowledge/information management, ICTs & education, digital libraries, staff motivation, organizational culture, SDGs and open data sharing. Her scholarly work has been presented at professional conferences and published in peer-reviewed journals. She is a reviewer for numerous international journals and an associate editor for IJLIS. Pertaining to work experience, Liah has worked as a teaching assistant at the University of Botswana for four academic years in the Department of Library and Information Studies and for one academic year at the Communication and Study Skills Unit. She has been an external consultant (Lecturer) at the Institute of Development Management from 2019 to 2022. Liah has been the president of the Records and Information Association in Botswana from 2018-2022 and also participates in charity work via the Botswana Inner Wheel Club. Liah is also an activist dedicated to combating child marriage and advocating for the education of girls especially within the Zezuru/ Shona ethnic group. She passionately works towards raising awareness about the harmful impacts of child marriage on young girls and the importance of empowering them through education. lmachara8@gmail.com; Lshonhe@mail.dlut.edu.cn; <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-2233-2164>

